UGA has long maintained an extensive network of connections to Germany, sending numerous students and scholars there each year and hosting many German students and scholars in Athens.

UGA Students in Germany:
From the 2010-2011 academic year through the summer of 2014, 114 UGA students studied in Germany through reciprocal student exchange or study abroad programs.

Student Exchanges:
UGA has longstanding reciprocal student exchanges with some of Germany’s most prestigious educational institutions (see list below). Many UGA students have participated in these exchanges for an immersive semester or year-long experience. In return, UGA has hosted an equivalent number of German students.

- Friedrich-Alexander-Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg
- Karlsruhe Institute of Technology
- Otto-Friedrich-Universität Bamberg
- Universität Heidelberg
- Universität Hohenheim in Stuttgart
- Universität Rostock (See table on following page).

Study Abroad:
UGA also administers the following study abroad programs in Germany:

- Field Experience in Health Promotion in Straelen
- German Language and Sustainable Development Program in Freiburg
- Terry Travels- Business in Europe
- TransAtlantic Precision Agriculture Consortium with Technischen Universität München

Internships:
In addition to the accredited programs listed above, UGA offers its students the opportunity to intern in Germany through the following programs:

- Consortium for Overseas Student Teaching
- Dean Rusk Center Global Legal Internship Program
- Master of Public Health Global Health Internship
- SSG Internship Program in Germanic and Slavic Studies

Visiting Students, Scholars & Researchers:
From the 2011-2012 through the 2014-2015 academic years, UGA hosted approximately 100 German students and 55 German scholars.
Cooperative Agreements (ICAs) and Memoranda of Understanding (MOU):
See the full list of active ICAs and MOU with German Institutions below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Institution</th>
<th>City</th>
<th>Area of Collaboration</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Albert-Ludwigs Universität Freiburg</td>
<td>Freiburg</td>
<td>Educational Research/German Environmental Culture</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friedrich-Alexander-Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg</td>
<td>Erlangen</td>
<td>Student Exchange</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Institut für Gemüse- und Zierpflanzenbau</td>
<td>Großbeeren</td>
<td>Post-Harvest Produce Quality</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Karlsruhe Institute of Technology</td>
<td>Karlsruhe</td>
<td>Student Exchange; Collaborative Research in Technology &amp; Engineering</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Otto-Friedrich-Universität Bamberg</td>
<td>Bamberg</td>
<td>Student Exchange</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universität Heidelberg</td>
<td>Heidelberg</td>
<td>Student Exchange</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universität Hohenheim</td>
<td>Stuttgart</td>
<td>Student Exchange</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universität Rostock</td>
<td>Rostock</td>
<td>Student Exchange</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Department of Germanic and Slavic Studies:
In addition to UGA’s institutional partnerships and programs of study in Germany, the Department of Germanic & Slavic Studies offers over seventy five German related courses in its extended catalog. There are four ways to receive formal recognition of advanced study of German at the University of Georgia: the German Studies major, the German Studies minor, the combined major in Germanic and Slavic Studies, and the Certificate in Business and Political German.